

Thank you for hosting a Life@Work Conference Watch Party! It's hosts like you who help make the day great.

To make it as easy as possible for you here are some simple tips and tricks to get the most out of the day and enjoy it as much as possible.

Decorate

Included in this pack are signs and balloons so you can give your venue a more festive feel. If you want to print out more signs you can find them on the "How to host a Watch Party" page on the conference website.

Plan your menu

Because the Conference is running in summer we're hoping you can enjoy the break between sessions and enjoy a yummy meal together. There are no activities planned in the break - we want you to just socialise and enjoy one another's company. Maybe you love catering and want to look after all the food and drinks for your guests. Or perhaps you could get everyone to bring something to share. Or grab a BBQ and have a summer BBQ together. Whatever it is, have fun and enjoy this time together. Send us your Watch Party photos: During the Conference we will provide details about how to share with us photos from your Watch Party. Make them fun. Make them creative. We're keen to show everyone watching where people are tuning in from around Australia and the world.

Invite guests

Especially those new to City Bible Forum. You might have been involved with City Bible Forum for a while and love what we do. This is a great chance to spread the word with your Christian friends and give them a taste of City Bible Forum. So invite your friends to your Watch Party, but maybe think especially about those who've never been involved with us before.

Encourage your guests to register in time

Everyone who registers for the Conference will get a special Conference Pack sent to them. To ensure they get it in time for the Conference please encourage your guests to register by midnight Sunday February 7. We'll keep sending packs to those who register after this date, but can't guarantee they'll arrive in time for the Conference.

Pray

The staff of City Bible Forum are praying that the Life@Work Conference will be a great encouragement to all who tune in and watch. We'd love if you could join us in praying for this too! Please pray that many Christians around the country (and overseas) are blessed by this Conference, and be better equipped for their life at work.
